NATIONAL ANTHEM

Nigeria, we hail thee,
Our own dear native land,
Though tribe and tongue may differ,
In brotherhood, we stand,
Nigerians all, and proud to serve
Our sovereign Motherland.

Our flag shall be a symbol
That truth and justice reign,
In peace or battle honour'd,
And this we count as gain,
To hand on to our children
A banner without stain.

O God of all creation,
Grant this our one request,
Help us to build a nation
Where no man is oppressed,
And so with peace and plenty
Nigeria may be blessed.

We Deliver Happiness

CONFERENCE ETIQUETTE

To ensure you get optimal benefit from the programme, we have listed a number of points to facilitate an enjoyable event.

01 AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION

This is an interactive platform and questions are encouraged, particularly in our panel discussions. Please, state your name and organization before posing your question. Should you prefer, specific questions can be left in writing at the information desk prior to the presentation to ensure the content is covered, as appropriate.

02 ACCESS PASS

Please wear your name tag at all times which you have been provided with, both as a courtesy to other delegates and for efficient delivery of messages. If there are any changes that need to be made, please ask the registration desk to print you another one.

03 COPYRIGHT

Please note that all documentation is under copyright of AIHS Events and the relevant speaker may only be reproduced with relevant permission. The views and information expressed are the opinion of the author/speaker and not necessarily of the Africa International Housing Show.

04 CELL PHONES

Kindly ensure your cell phone is turned off or on silence during the proceedings

05 INFORMATION DESK

Kindly address any queries, requests or concerns at our information desk.

06 DIETARY REQUIREMENT

Please advise the information desk soonest of any special dietary requirements so as to allow sufficient time to make the necessary arrangements

07 NO SMOKING

Please note that a strict "no smoking policy" is observed at all times in the conference and dining facilities. Smoking facilities are available outside.

A WARM AFRICAN

WELCOME TO YOU ALL

Thank you for joining us from all corners of the world to explore the African Continent together. At this year's Africa International Housing Show, we can all look forward to a productive and colourful exhibition experience and insightful conference that delivers, both in terms of knowledge and influential networking opportunities.

We have exciting discussions to look forward to. There will be ample opportunity to network with peers and take advantage of all the opportunities the Africa real estate and construction market offers. We have dedicated main conference sessions for CEOs, Political Leaders, Leading Organizations and Financial Institutions. Please feel free to capitalize on this sales and networking opportunity, and benefit throughout these valuable days. Also explore, live stream, schedule a meeting or sign an MOU with investors, finance institutions, developers and real estate companies.

Make time to connect with the event by downloading our user-friendly mobile application HOUSING TV AFRICA from Google Play or Apple Store.

We are certain that your decision to invest your valuable time in this much anticipated largest housing and construction event in Africa will prove both enjoyable, profitable and worth the while. If we can provide any assistance during the course of the event, please do not hesitate to ask.

Yours sincerely,

ETHICS AND CODE OF ACCEPTANCE FOR EXHIBITORS AND EXHIBITIONS AT THE AFRICA INTERNATIONAL HOUSING CONFERENCE

INTRODUCTION

The Housing Conference is committed to maintaining the highest standards of professionalism and ethical conduct in all aspects of its events, including exhibitors and exhibitions. This Ethics and Code of Acceptance outlines the principles and guidelines that exhibitors must adhere to in order to participate in the conference.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS AND REGULATIONS

Exhibitors must comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and industry standards related to housing, exhibition, advertising, and sales practices. This includes but is not limited to laws concerning fair housing, consumer protection, advertising standards, and data protection.

INTEGRITY AND PROFESSIONALISM

Exhibitors are expected to maintain the highest standards of integrity, professionalism, and ethical conduct throughout their participation in the Housing Conference. This includes refraining from engaging in any deceptive, misleading, or unethical practices, and treating conference attendees, staff, and fellow exhibitors with respect and courtesy.

TRUTHFUL AND ACCURATE REPRESENTATIONS

Exhibitors must provide truthful and accurate information about their products, services, and offerings.

Any claims, representations, or statements made must be substantiated and not mislead or deceive conference attendees. Exhibitors should avoid making false, exaggerated, or misleading claims about the benefits, features, or performance of their products or services.

Compliance with Exhibition Guidelines Exhibitors must adhere to the exhibition guidelines set forth by the Housing Conference. These guidelines may include rules related to booth design, size, display materials, signage, demonstrations, and other aspects of the exhibition. Exhibitors should familiarize themselves with these guidelines and ensure full compliance.

Respect for Intellectual Property Exhibitors must respect intellectual property rights, including trademarks, copyrights, and patents. Exhibitors should not display, distribute, or use any materials that infringe upon the intellectual property rights of others, unless they have obtained the necessary permissions or licenses.

PROTECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Exhibitors must handle personal information collected during the conference in accordance with applicable privacy laws and regulations. Exhibitors should implement appropriate measures to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and security of personal information and obtain necessary consents for the collection, use, and disclosure of such information.

PROHIBITED ACTIVITIES

Exhibitors are prohibited from engaging in activities that are illegal, discriminatory, harassing or offensive. This includes but is not limited to the distribution of unauthorized promotional materials, engaging in aggressive sales tactics, or any behavior that may disrupt the conference or create an uncomfortable environment for attendees.

NON-ENDORSEMENT

Participation in the Housing Conference as an exhibitor does not imply endorsement or approval by the conference organizers. Exhibitors should refrain from making any statements or suggestions that imply endorsement or approval by the conference, unless such endorsement or approval has been explicitly granted.

ENFORCEMENT AND CONSEQUENCES

Violation of this Ethics and Code of Acceptance may result in the exhibitor's removal from the conference, cancellation of booth space, and/or prohibition from participating in future Housing Conference events.

The conference organizers reserve the right to take appropriate action in response to any violations, as deemed necessary.

By participating as an exhibitor at the Housing Conference, you acknowledge your acceptance and agreement to abide by this Ethics and Code of Acceptance. Failure to comply may result in sanctions as outlined above.

CLOSING WRAP UP AND CLOSING REMARKS

EDGE AND THE GREEN BUILDING BUSINESS CASE

Green buildings offer a large and commercially viable decarbonization opportunity for building owners and financial institutions. Today's buildings generate 39 percent of GHG emissions from energy use. By 2060, the built environment is expected to double, mainly driven by construction in emerging markets. However, uptake of green options lags due to lack of awareness of the business case, misperceptions of high costs, lack of experience across the supply chain, and asymmetry of information between sellers who build for efficiency and buyers who do not have the expertise to appraise sellers' claims. The EDGE program addresses these barriers by building capacity with designers, developers, banks, policymakers, and academia, creating a demonstration portfolio, and offering a straightforward, affordable green certification tailored to client needs in each country and climate.

The Business Case for Green Building

In IFC's experience, the incremental construction cost of green buildings is less than 3% and is generally paid back within two to three years.

Green measures also futureproof buildings against transition risks from potentially stricter environmental regulations and changing owner/occupant preferences. Lower operating costs and lower investment risk from greening buildings translate to a variety of benefits for different stakeholders.

- ▶ Developers benefit from faster sales/leasing and greater market share.
- ▶ Owners enjoy higher value appreciation and rental yields, faster leasing, lower market and regulatory risks.
- ▶ Occupiers save on energy and water bills and are less exposed to energy price volatility.
- ▶ Financial intermediaries can diversify their investor base when they issue green building construction loans or mortgages and finance these through green finance. Demand for green bonds continues to grow, although studies have yet to confirm that this translates into lower funding costs.
- ▶ Governments also benefit from certified green buildings due to: reduced pressure to expand energy and water grids; reduced cost of energy subsidies to low-income households; and validated climate leadership through quantified GHG savings.

ABOUT EDGE

An innovation of IFC, a member of the World Bank Group, EDGE is a free design software and an affordable certification system that empowers clients to easily determine the most cost-effective ways to build green. EDGE catalyzes green investment pipeline by simplifying design decision-making and streamlines the impact reporting required for green finance. IFC has invested $7.5 billion in green buildings including mobilization. Since 2015 EDGE has certified about $35 billion of floorspace in 69 countries and it is growing exponentially. GHG reduction from EDGE buildings is estimated to be 645 thousand tCO₂e a year.

EDGE is now available worldwide to certify new and existing buildings of all types. It is growing exponentially because it is easy to use and costs a fraction of traditional certifications. It is also an affordable option for investors who want to map and track a path for zero carbon at portfolio level. EDGE serves all market segments, from social housing to grade A offices, hotels, datacenters, warehouses, light industry, retail and transport terminals. During the pandemic EDGE was used to certify rapidly built COVID hospitals.

The EDGE Standards and Global Certification System

EDGE certification is available worldwide for new and existing buildings of almost every typology, including: social housing to high income residential, multifamily buildings and landed homes; hotels; offices; shops; warehouses; light industry; datacenters; airports and other transport terminals; schools; hospitals; and places of worship. The EDGE system has three performance levels:

EDGE Standard

- ▶ The EDGE standard which requires 20% energy, 20% water, and 20% embodied energy in materials savings relative to new business as usual construction;

EDGE Advanced

- ▶ EDGE Advanced which requires an EDGE building to achieve 40% energy savings;

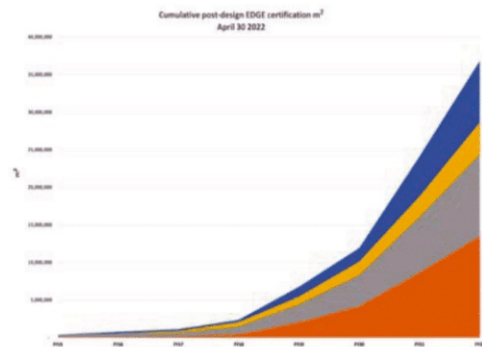

EDGE Zero Carbon

- ▶ EDGE Zero Carbon which requires an EDGE Advanced building to offset any GHG emissions with carbon credits.

The free EDGE design software helps clients decarbonize by instantaneous energy and cost modelling which minimizes incremental capital costs and accelerates investment decision-making. An EDGE client submits a design in the free EDGE software which is then evaluated by an independent certification provider. EDGE currently has the largest network of certification providers in the world, including the US Green Building Council's GBCI, the SGS-Sintali Consortium and six others. Once a project is certified, IFC helps clients communicate their successes to encourage others in the market. This support includes social media exposure, marketing advice, disseminating press releases, articles, and more.

EDGE is an Internationally accepted Standard for Green Finance

EDGE provides an affordable route to tap growing demand for green asset finance. For banks and corporates, green finance diversifies sources of funding and green bonds are in ever greater demand from investors. The free EDGE software provides estimated GHG, energy and water savings automatically, reducing the cost of generating quantified GHG impact reports. EDGE is now used by dozen of financial intermediaries and most development banks. It is recognized by the major green finance standard setters (ICMA, GRESB, and the Climate Bonds Initiative) and is aligned with the EU Taxonomy. The EU Taxonomy benchmarks buildings on the basis of kWh/m²/year which is also how EDGE works.

RELATED IFC PRODUCTS

IFC is developing the Building Resilience Index to help investors to identify physical climate risks and mitigate them. In addition, IFC has applied the EDGE approach of simplifying complex decision-making into the municipal arena with APEX. The APEX application provides cost-impact analysis of city level investment and policies in transport, municipal solid waste, and renewable energy as well as green buildings.

AIHS AT A GLANCE

ABOUT AFRICA INTERNATIONAL HOUSING SHOW

Since 2007, the Africa International Housing Show has established itself as the continent's largest housing and construction expo. This event serves as a vital forum, bringing together all stakeholders in the real estate sector to discuss and explore innovative ideas aimed at promoting Africa's housing industry in the international market.

Over the years, the Show has provided real estate professionals with valuable networking opportunities, connecting local and foreign investors. It has consistently generated high-quality audiences and sales leads for exhibitors while offering home buyers excellent deals on affordable housing options.

Our mission is to exemplify excellence in real estate, interior decoration, and property development. We strive to be the definitive reference point for connecting professionals and stakeholders in Africa's rapidly evolving real estate industry.

This International Housing Show/Exhibition showcases product presentations and exhibitions of building technologies focused on affordable housing from around the globe. Additionally, we feature displays of home interiors, construction equipment, chemicals and paint products, mortgage services, and housing projects. The event includes interactive forums with high-net-worth participants, fostering valuable discussions within the industry. The show culminates in an awards ceremony, recognizing and encouraging outstanding government officials, corporate entities, and individuals who have significantly contributed to the industry's success.

One of our greatest competitive strengths is our impressive track record of over 90% returning exhibitors each year, reflecting strong industry loyalty and satisfaction. This consistency enhances the quality of the event and attracts a diverse audience, positioning us as a premier platform for networking and collaboration in the real estate sector.

The expo which receives visitors from around the globe looking for investment opportunities in the growing African Real estate market has categories which include among others; Estate

Developers, Building Materials, Machinery & Equipments, Steel & Aluminum production. Also featured at the Show are exhibitors of allied products like Glass, Doors & Windows. Wood working, Paints & Coatings, Furniture & Interior Decorators, Architectural Finishing, Air Conditioning, Bathroom & Kitchen and Alternative Energy & Power Solutions. The Show is a unique one stop-shop for real estate Industry Stakeholders with innovative Products, Services & Technology.

The event, reputed as the largest real estate festival in Africa, is powered by Africa International Housing Show and Housing TV Africa - the first Housing Television in Africa and a leading promoter of housing development in Nigeria, known for producing the Housing Development Programme on Africa Independent Television (AIT).

This year, the show enjoys the collaboration of the Federal Ministry of Housing and Urban Development, a newly established standalone ministry that emerged through dedicated advocacy efforts. Another unique aspect is the participation of a United Kingdom delegation through the UK Department of Trade and Investment. Their involvement will enhance investment, trade development, and skill-building initiatives in Nigeria, which will add an international dimension to the show.

This edition also enjoys the support of Federal Mortgage Bank of Nigeria, Nigeria Mortgage Refinance Company Plc and leading brands such as Dangote Cement, the African Union for Housing Finance, Shelter Afrique, GMH luxury, Cosgrove, Boing luxury, Brains & Hammers, Constrix among others. Also, professional bodies in the housing industry are actively backing the 18th Africa International Housing Show.

Dear PARTICIPANTS

Welcome to the 18th Africa International Housing Show. It is both an honor and a privilege to have you here today as we discuss, "FINANCING THE HOUSING WE NEED."

The Africa International Housing Show has grown significantly over the years, becoming a cornerstone for dialogue and collaboration among key stakeholders in the housing sector. We extend our deepest gratitude to each of you for your ongoing support, commitment, and engagement, which have been instrumental in making this event a success.

This year, we are proud to co-host the show with the newly established Federal Ministry of Housing and Urban Development. This ministry was created as a direct result of tireless advocacy efforts and a shared recognition of the pressing need to address Africa's housing deficit. Together, we are united in our mission to transform the housing sector across the continent.

We are also pleased to announce that we have a 25-member delegation from the United Kingdom's Department of Trade and Investment joining us. Their presence here indicates a commitment to fostering foreign investment and boosting local trade in our housing sector. We look forward to the valuable partnerships and insights that this collaboration can bring.

We would also like to take a moment to extend a warm welcome to our exhibitors. Your presence here is vital to the success of this show. Each of you brings unique insights and innovative solutions that can help shape the future of housing in Africa. Your commitment to showcasing your products and services not only enriches our discussions but also inspires collaboration among all participants. This platform is an opportunity for you to connect with potential partners, investors, and policymakers who share a common vision of addressing Africa's housing challenges.

As we all know, financing is a crucial element in this endeavor. For too long, discussions around housing have focused primarily on construction and supply. Today, we turn our attention to the financial feasibility of providing adequate housing for our rapidly growing population. It is important that we not only envision solutions but also explore practical strategies to finance these solutions.

Throughout this event, we will engage in thought-provoking discussions, share innovative ideas, and explore best practices that can drive us towards our goal. Your diverse expertise and perspectives are invaluable in financing the housing we need.

On behalf of the AIHS Board, I extend our heartfelt gratitude to each of you for your active participation and commitment.

The theme of this year's show resonates deeply with our collective vision. It is our goal that discussions here will reinforce the critical role financing plays in transforming housing across Africa, as we explore innovative solutions and forge partnerships that will pave the way for sustainable growth in our sector.

Let us remember that our collective efforts have the power to create lasting change. Together, we can pave the way for a sustainable and inclusive housing future for all Africans.

I encourage you to download the Housing TV Africa App from the Apple or Google

Store, or watch us on StarTimes Channel 149. Also, follow us on all social media platforms. This will enable us to interact seamlessly and provide you with access to exclusive opportunities created for this special event.

Thank you for being here, and let's make the 18th Africa International Housing Show a transformative experience!

Enjoy the Show!

FESTUS ADEBAYO
Coordinator,
Africa Int'l Housing Show

Welcome To ABUJA

Greetings from Nigeria's capital, Abuja, which serves as a melting pot of cultures, traditions, and modernity.

Over time, conversations surrounding housing have predominantly centered on the physical structures themselves, often overlooking the vital aspect of financing. This oversight is particularly pronounced in Africa, where the need for adequate housing is vast and urgent.

The 18th edition of the Africa International Housing Show (AIHS) offers a pivotal platform where stakeholders from government, private sector, and civil society converge to address the continent's housing challenges under the theme "Financing the Housing We Need." Through open discussions and collaborative efforts, AIHS aims to innovate financial solutions for affordable housing, showcase cutting-edge products and services in the sector, and explore sustainable financing models. By fostering dialogue, networking opportunities, and knowledge-sharing, the 18th AIHS plays a crucial role in driving forward initiatives that promote inclusive and sustainable urban development across the African continent.

Why Abuja?

Abuja's status as Nigeria's seat of power greatly enhances its importance as the host city for the 18th Africa International Housing Show.

Abuja is the capital city of Nigeria, in the middle of the country. The skyline of the city, which was built largely in the 1980s, is dominated by Aso Rock, an enormous monolith. It rises up behind the Presidential Complex, which house the residence and offices of the Nigerian president in the Three Arms Zone on the eastern edge of the city. Nearby are the National Assembly and the Supreme Court of Nigeria.

Abuja's role as a melting pot of industry leaders, policymakers, and innovators in the housing sector amplifies the fact that its selection as the host city for AIHS 2024 is not just a logistical decision but a strategic choice that projects the event's mission to address housing affordability through innovative financing solutions, thereby contributing to the development and sustainability of Africa's housing sector.

There's so much to explore and discuss in this vibrant city. Let's get started!

Welcome once again to the Seat of Power.

DANGOTE

Dangote Industries Limited (Dangote Group) is one of Africa's largest industrial conglomerates. It is a diversified and fully integrated conglomerate with an annual group turnover in excess of US$4 billion. It has been a key investor in the Nigerian economy. The Group's interests include cement, sugar, salt and real estate, with new projects underway in the oil and gas, petrochemical, fertiliser and steel sectors of the economy.

The core business focus of the Group, which started operations in 1978, is to provide local, value-added products and services that meet the 'basic needs' of the populace. Through the construction and operation of large scale manufacturing facilities in Nigeria and across 17 other African countries, Dangote Group is focused on building local manufacturing capacity to generate employment, prevent capital flight and provide locally produced goods for the people. As a Group, we recognise the perceived difficulty of doing business in Nigeria, and across Africa, especially in the manufacturing sector. But we also believe that the potential for growth in Africa and the opportunities available in value added manufacturing remain attractive, despite the obstacles.
