NATIONAL ANTHEM

Nigeria, we hail thee,
Our own dear native land,
Though tribe and tongue may differ,
In brotherhood, we stand,
Nigerians all, and proud to serve
Our sovereign Motherland.

Our flag shall be a symbol
That truth and justice reign,
In peace or battle honour'd,
And this we count as gain,
To hand on to our children
A banner without stain.

O God of all creation,
Grant this our one request,
Help us to build a nation
Where no man is oppressed,
And so with peace and plenty
Nigeria may be blessed.

Dear PARTICIPANTS

Welcome to the 19th Africa International Housing Show 2025! It's both an honor and a privilege to have you here today as we collectively embark on "RE-IMAGINING HOUSING THROUGH INNOVATION, COLLABORATION AND POLICY." The Africa International Housing Show has consistently served as a vital platform for dialogue and partnership among key stakeholders in the housing sector, and your unwavering support and engagement have been instrumental in its continued success.

This year, we're especially proud to collaborate with the Federal Ministry of Housing and Urban Development in hosting this landmark event. This Ministry's establishment is a testament to our tireless advocacy and a shared national recognition of the urgent need for robust policy frameworks to address Africa's housing deficit. Together, we are united in our mission to transform the housing sector across the continent.

We extend a warm welcome to our esteemed exhibitors, whose presence is vital to the success of this show. Each of you brings unique insights and groundbreaking innovative solutions that are crucial in shaping the future of housing in Africa. This platform offers an unparalleled opportunity to forge connections with potential partners, investors, and policymakers who share our common vision.

The scale of the challenge before us is immense. Nigeria alone faces a staggering yet to be confirmed housing deficit estimated at over 28 million units, a stark reality that impacts millions of lives and hinders economic progress. Addressing this gap isn't just about building houses; it's about unlocking profound socio-economic benefits. Imagine the millions of jobs created across the value chain, from construction to logistics and services. AIHS at its 18th edition advocated the need for accurate housing data and Nigeria's Honourable Minister of Housing and Urban Development, Arc. Ahmed Dangiwa acted immediately after the event setting up a National Housing Data Steering Committee to establish a National Housing Data Centre for Nigeria. This committee is expected to deliver an update on this very important project at this year's AIHS.

Envision the improved quality of life, health, and productivity that decent, affordable homes provide, fostering stronger communities and stable families. This is the future we are here to build. We have a collective responsibility and an unparalleled opportunity to drive this transformation. This show is not just a conference; it's a call to action for stakeholders, policymakers, developers, financiers, innovators, and individuals, to rise to the occasion, innovate boldly, and collaborate effectively.

While financing is undoubtedly a crucial element, re-imagining housing requires a multi-faceted approach. This year, our agenda delves into critical areas such as fostering the affordability of building materials, promoting the adoption of alternative building methods for efficiency and sustainability, and developing robust strategies for supporting start-ups that are driving innovation in the sector. We'll also intensify efforts on encouraging youth participation in housing to cultivate the next generation of industry leaders, and champion the imperative of regulating the real estate sector to foster transparency, trust, and protect investments. Furthermore, the vital issues of land administration, access to land, and essential policy reforms will be central to our agenda, as they are fundamental to unlocking equitable and affordable housing development across the continent.

To facilitate deeper interaction and a comprehensive search for solutions on these diverse topics, we've created a central auditorium and four dedicated halls for various breakout sessions. An LED screen will be provided to display programs happening in all these breakout halls from time to time, ensuring you stay connected to all discussions.

Throughout this event, we will engage in thought-provoking discussions, share pioneering ideas, and

Welcome to ABUJA

Greetings from Nigeria's capital, Abuja, which serves as a melting pot of cultures, traditions, and modernity.

Over time, conversations surrounding housing have predominantly centered on the physical structures themselves, often overlooking the vital aspect of financing. This oversight is particularly pronounced in Africa, where the need for adequate housing is vast and urgent.

The 18th edition of the Africa International Housing Show (AIHS) offers a pivotal platform where stakeholders from government, private sector, and civil society converge to address the continent's housing challenges under the theme "Financing the Housing We Need." Through open discussions and collaborative efforts, AIHS aims to innovate financial solutions for affordable housing, showcase cutting-edge products and services in the sector, and explore sustainable financing models. By fostering dialogue, networking opportunities, and knowledge-sharing, the 18th AIHS plays a crucial role in driving forward initiatives that promote inclusive and sustainable urban development across the African continent.

Why Abuja?

Abuja's status as Nigeria's seat of power greatly enhances its importance as the host city for the 18th Africa International Housing Show.

Abuja is the capital city of Nigeria, in the middle of the country. The skyline of the city, which was built largely in the 1980s, is dominated by Aso Rock, an enormous monolith. It rises up behind the Presidential Complex, which house the residence and offices of the Nigerian president in the Three Arms Zone on the eastern edge of the city. Nearby are the National Assembly and the Supreme Court of Nigeria.

Abuja's role as a melting pot of industry leaders, policymakers, and innovators in the housing sector amplifies the fact that its selection as the host city for AIHS 2024 is not just a logistical decision but a strategic choice that projects the event's mission to address housing affordability through innovative financing solutions, thereby contributing to the development and sustainability of Africa's housing sector.

There's so much to explore and discuss in this vibrant city. Let's get started!

Welcome once again to the Seat of Power.

Teal harmony is an interior design and renovation firm birthed in 2015 with a principal focus of providing cutting edge design solutions for private, business and commercial projects. Our vision was built for noble intention to be a yellow-page for interior design needs.

We have grown over the years, earning our place as an innovative, forward thinking interior design firm in Nigeria, positioned to bridge the gap between expense and expectation for today's truly discerning design enthusiasts.

Our team of more than 53 design professionals, artisans and skilled craftsmen with a combination of over 20 years, help to surpass all client expectations.

FROM THE CEO'S DESK

Teal Harmony started out in 2015 as a yellow-pages for interior design needs born out of my personal experience when I moved homes and I couldn't find directories in Nigeria, nor the right skillset for interior design. At inception, we solved numerous such problems through our directory services, bridging the gap between our verified professionals and artisans in the field and the customers. We have grown over the years, earning our place as an innovative, forward thinking interior design firm based in Nigeria, using design to create office spaces that increase productivity, staff retention and collaboration; to homes that become places of sanctuary from the hustle and bustle of life; to commercial spaces that are customer centric which in turn increase sales and create brand affinity and loyalty.

Within the short span of our existence, we have worked on 150+ projects across residential, commercial, corporate and hospitality sectors, consistently delivering on our promise which has led to us having over 78% percent of our clients as repeat customers.

We have also refined our processes and structure which has made us attractive to potential hires and has given us the advantage to hire the right kind of people.

Harmony is truth, harmony is peace, harmony is love, harmony really is everything and everything is what we seek to give to our clients.

FEDERAL MORTGAGE BANK OF NIGERIA (FMBN)

The Federal Mortgage Bank of Nigeria (FMBN) is a pivotal financial institution established to provide long-term credit facilities to mortgage institutions in Nigeria, playing a crucial role in the development of the nation's housing sector. Originally incorporated in 1956 as the Nigerian Building Society, it was restructured and renamed the Federal Mortgage Bank of Nigeria in 1977. Its primary mandate is to facilitate the provision of affordable housing to Nigerians, particularly those in the low and medium-income brackets, through the effective management of the National Housing Fund (NHF).

As the apex mortgage institution in Nigeria, FMBN mobilizes funds from various sources, including contributions from the National Housing Fund, to provide wholesale funding to Primary Mortgage Banks (PMBs). These PMBs, in turn, disburse mortgage loans to eligible Nigerians. FMBN also offers various mortgage products, such as the National Housing Fund (NHF) Loan, the Cooperative Housing Development Loan, and the Individual Construction Loan, all designed to make homeownership more accessible. The Bank is also actively involved in estate development loans, supporting housing developers to deliver affordable homes. With its headquarters in Abuja, FMBN remains central to the Federal Government's efforts to bridge the housing deficit and promote sustainable housing development across the country.

We are an innovative, commercial contemporary-luxury-residential real estate developer in Nigeria.

Since the delivery of our first set of unique, and beautifully crafted homes with luxurious interior designs in 2006, we have seen our stunning homes constitute a valuable addition to Nigerian residential architecture. AG MORTGAGE BANK PLC

AG Mortgage Bank Plc was incorporated on 21st July, 2004 to carry on business as a Primary Mortgage Institution [PMI].

It was granted a mortgage banking licence by the Central Bank of Nigeria in December, 2004 and commenced full operations by 31st January, 2005. The company had since inception developed innovative products that have received the approval of the Central Bank of Nigeria.

In addition, the company has been approved by the Central Bank of Nigeria and accredited by the Federal Mortgage Bank as a window through which customers can access the National Housing Fund.

However, during this period, there had been developments in the operating environment, which created new opportunities and challenges to the institution.
